II. Course Description and Objectives

■ Course Description

Leadership in the "All in AI" era departed from traditional values, creating confusion for all. This course aspires to dive back into ancient wisdoms within the Chinese Classics (文 Wen) to examine the fundamental guidelines for developing leadership skills unavoidably with an AI (武Wu) emphasis. We hope to compare:

- Where is leadership now and where will it go in the future?
- What are the basic qualities we are looking for?
- What is needed to face a multifaceted and pluralistic world?

The Book of Changes (易經 Yijing) is a foundation on which many Chinese Classics are based. This course will follow the footsteps of the medieval scholars of the Song/Ming (宋/明) dynasties who returned to the ancient sources (淵源) to ground the Chinese identity. Ru (儒 Confucius) , Dao (道 Daoist), Fa (法 Legalist) and Bing (兵 Military) schools are all heavily influenced by the Yi (易). Their inspirations were ignited by Tang scholars who were examining "This Culture of Ours"

These wisdom and values may be perceived as "old" fashion; however, exploring Chineseness in the context of "China in the World" will bring to light leadership behaviours currently being practiced to be aligned with values within the Chinese Classics. (Exploration will be conducted through guest speakers, case studies, AI application and experiential activities and discussions in class)

■ Course objectives

1. Introduce the Chinese classical texts and connect their schools of thoughts to aspects of leadership.
2. Familiarise students with the wisdom and leadership skills contained within Chinese classics.
3. Examine elements of leadership as they pertain to the self and others.
4. Develop critical thinking skills in analysing and reflecting on the application of Chinese mode of thought as well as AI ultilities.
5. Investigate the connection between Chinese identity, Chineseness and leadership behaviours by exploring China's commercial and geo-political roles in the world.

III. Course Learning Outcomes (CLOs)

CLO1	Understand the core leadership values, ethics and practices presented in the Chinese Classics as compared to Western concepts.
CLO2	Analyse and interpret the leadership styles and strategies employed in China and Western culture.
CLO3	Evaluate the relevance and applicability of traditional Chinese leadership principles in contemporary contexts.
CLO4	Develop the ability of thinking critically through integrating Chinese leadership concepts to the self as well as into real-life leadership scenarios.
CLO5	Demonstrate effective oral and written communication skills in presenting their understanding of leadership wisdoms in the Chinese Classics.

IV. Alignment of Programme and Course LOs

MBA Programme Learning Outcomes	Aligned Course Learning Outcomes (CLOs)

TLA2	Guest lecture	CLO 1, 2, 3, 4
TLA3	Group presentation, peer critique and instructor's comments	CLO 1, 2, 3, 4, 5
TLA4	Experiential exercises /Preparation of class participation reflection.	CLO 3, 4, 5
TLA5	Readings/Preparation of group assignments	CLO 3, 4, 5

VI. Assessment

A#	Content	Description (Optional)	Weight	Aligned CLOs
A1	Class Participation - Attendance 5% - Discussion 15%	Attendance & discussions	20%	CLO1, 2, 4, 5
A2	Individual Assignment	Effort and depth of reflection	30%	CLO1, 2, 3, 4
A3	Group Project - Debate 30% (Advancer role 15%, Defender role 15%) - Group Paper 15% - Citation and reference 5%	Effort, critical thinking Advancer role – asking suitable/detailed questions in regards opponent's paper Defender role – ability to systematically answer questions posed	50%	CLO1, 2, 3, 4, 5

VII. Standard for Assessment

- Course Grade Descriptors

A+, A, A-	•Demonstrate a strong understanding of all relevant knowledge •Handling questions professionally •High participation in discussions with the ability to ask targeted questions •Present arguments that have an element of originality •Achieve a standard of excellent performance in presenting an integrated approach of course content and very good analytical and problem-solving skills •Excellent performance in assignments, including AI usage declaration*, i.e. translation, editing, conceptual integration, and detailed citations •Demonstrating deep understanding at final debate roles

B+, B, B-	•Demonstrate a good understanding of all relevant knowledge •Handling questions in a logical way and ability to ask good questions •Good participation in discussions •Present arguments that go beyond the lecture and textbook •Achieve a standard of good performance in presenting an integrated approach of course content and problem-solving skills •Good performance in assignments, including AI usage declaration*, i.e. translation, editing, conceptual integration, and detailed citations •Good understanding and participation at final debate
C+, C, C-	•Demonstrate a basic understanding of the concepts involved •Fairly address questions as set •Some participation in discussions •Present arguments in a well-structure manner •Meet a standard of acceptable performance in the exams with reasonably accurate computation and acceptable analytical and problem-solving skills •Acceptable performance in assignments •Acceptable participation at final debate
D+, D	•Demonstrate a minimum understanding of the concepts involved •Barely address questions as set •Minimal or no participation in discussions •Present arguments in a marginally acceptable manner •Meet a standard of marginally acceptable performance in the exams with some errors in computation and barely adequate analytical and problem-solving skills •Marginally acceptable performance in assignments •Marginal participation at final debate
F	•Demonstrate a poor understanding of the concepts involved •Unable or unwilling to handle questions •Minimal or no participation in discussions •Present arguments poorly •Fail to meet a standard of passing the exams with major errors in computation and inadequate analytical and problem-solving skills •Poorly performance in assignments •Poor participation at final debate

- Assessment Rubrics for Each Assessment

Grade	Course Grade Descriptor
Assessment Task: Participation **
A+, A, A-	•High participation in discussions •Always attend in-class discussions •Demonstrate a strong understanding of all relevant knowledge •Handling and asking questions professionally •Present arguments that have an element of originality •Respect others and follow the class rules (no chatting and do not use cell phone) •Discussions relevant to the content of PPTs, case study and assignments •Strong questions and discussions at final debate
B+, B, B-	•Good participation in discussions •Often attend in-class discussions •Demonstrate a good understanding of all relevant knowledge •Handling and asking questions in a logical way •Present arguments that go beyond the lecture and textbook

	•Respect others and follow the class rules (no chatting and do not use cell phone) •Discussions relevant to the content of PPTs, case study and assignments •Good questions and discussions at final debate
C+, C, C-	•Some participation in discussions •Sometimes attend in-class discussions •Demonstrate a basic understanding of the concepts involved •Fairly address questions as set •Present arguments in a well-structure manner •Respect others and follow the class rules (no chatting and do not use cell phone) •Some questions and discussions at final debate
D+, D	•Minimal or no participation in discussions •Rarely attend in-class discussions •Demonstrate a minimum understanding of the concepts involved •Barely address questions as set •Present arguments in a marginally acceptable manner •Respect others and follow the class rules (no chatting and do not use cell phone) •Minimal questions and discussions at final debate
F	•Minimal or no participation in discussions •Almost never attend in-class discussions •Demonstrate a poor understanding of the concepts involved •Unable or unwilling to handle questions •Present arguments poorly •Behave poorly in class (often chatting with others, using cell phones, or being late) •No participation
Assessment Task: Individual Assignment and Group Project
A+, A, A-	Content directly related to the topic, strong interpretation and analysis on selected Chinese Classics, offers significant insights and original thoughts, excellently argued and presented, good writing style, appeared enthusiastic and confident at all times, moderate level of excitement to hold audience's attention, perfect timing for the presentation length. AI declaration* and detailed citations are essential
B+, B, B-	Content related to the topic, solid interpretation and analysis on selected Chinese Classics, uses relevant literature, appeared enthusiastic and confident at all times, held audience's attention for most of the times, adequate timing for the presentation length. AI declaration* and detailed citations are essential
C+, C, C-	Sufficient understanding of the topic, clear evidences of having consulted relevant literature, presented with a clear structure, show some confidence and limited excitement on the topic, lost attention of some of audiences, timing for the presentation was insufficient
D+, D	Basic understanding of the topic, consulted limited literature, largely descriptive with little analysis, arguments incomplete and weak in integrating arguments, lost attention of most audiences, presentation is too short or too long
F	Lack of basic understanding of the topic, limited use of relevant literature, poor presentation, does not meet the minimum word length requirement, show little or no confidence and enthusiasm about the topic, nervous, lost audience interest, finish abruptly

Individual Assignment:
Class participation reflection: A 1,500-word reflection based on lectures, reflecting on what you have personally learned in the process of attending classes, could include any one of the following:

1) Leadership principles from which school(s) that resonated with you the most and an explanation of why they had such an impact on you.
2) Integration from Chinese Classics with Western-style management models based on case studies or personal working experiences can be described or evaluated. Advantages and disadvantages can be discussed. This analysis can be approached using your"self" as an instrument.
3) Elaborate on how these teaching and learning activities (TLAs, such as lectures, experiential learning activities, interactive class discussions, video analysis and individual reading) have facilitated your comprehension of the topics covered in class, or acquiring new perspectives/insights. You can also discuss how they have helped you connect theoretical concepts with real-world applications or how they have deepened your understanding of complex subject matter.

Group Project:
The group essay requires a collaborative work involving topic selection, conducting research, gathering texts on leadership from one of the Chinese Classics, scrutinising their viewpoints on leadership, contrasting them with contemporary leadership theories, and deducing conclusion or implications from the analysis. The assignment will comprise individual and group components, where each member will present their part of the essay based on individual input (10%). The group performance will carry a weight of 50% of the overall grade. Integration of all the parts into a cohesive whole is an important component of this assessment (10%). Peer reviews and intergroup debate on presented topics by others is an essential learning opportunity (10%).

Word length: 2,500 words. Tables, images, and references do not count towards the word count.

 A moodle form will be created for each student to fill in during all sessions to register their participation Which will be given weighting by the course management; those who do not register their participation will lose the percentage of grade as zero

VIII. Means/Processes for Student Feedback on Course

In this section, please indicate how continuous feedback will be given to students on different assessment items so that they can make progress within the course, and not just receiving a final course grade.

- ☑ Verbal feedback during and after debate
- ☐ Written feedback on written assignments (to be distributed within the course period)
- ☐ Assignments Feedback via Moodle site (You can refer to http://www.mba.hku.hk/misc/feedback-at-moodle for instructions on how to give feedback to students on individual assignments submitted through Moodle.)
- ☐ Others: _____ (please specify)

IX. Academic Integrity

The University Regulations on academic dishonesty will be strictly enforced. Please check the University Statement on plagiarism on http://www.hku.hk/plagiarism/.

Cheating or plagiarism of any kind would result in an automatic F grade for the course plus strict enforcement of all Faculty and/or University regulations regarding such behavior. Incident(s) of academic dishonesty will NOT be tolerated.

Academic dishonesty is a behavior in which a deliberately fraudulent misrepresentation is employed in an attempt to gain undeserved intellectual credit, either for oneself or for another. It includes, but is not necessarily limited to, the following types of cases:

a. Plagiarism - The representation of someone else's ideas as if they are one's own. Where the arguments, data, designs, etc., of someone else are being used in a paper, report, oral presentation, or similar academic project, this fact must be made explicitly clear by citing the appropriate references. The references must fully indicate the extent to which any parts of the project are not one's own work. Paraphrasing of someone else's ideas is still using someone else's ideas, and must be acknowledged.

b. Unauthorized Collaboration on Out-of-Class Projects - The representation of work as solely one's own when in fact it is the result of a joint effort.

c. Clear indications of processes used with AI assistance for all work; during class group projects, paper generation etc. Names of AI used and can include discussion with AI agents.

d. Cheating on In-Class Exams - The covert gathering of information from other students, the use of unauthorized notes, unauthorized aids, etc.

e. Unauthorized Advance Access to an Exam - The representation of materials prepared at leisure, as a result of unauthorized advance access (however obtained), as if it were prepared under the rigors of the exam setting. This misrepresentation is dishonest in itself even if there are not compounding factors, such as unauthorized uses of books or notes.

X. Course Content and Tentative Teaching Schedule

XI. Additional Course Information

Information on textbook, cases, other related course material, penalty for late assignment and attendance policy (all MBA students have to attain a minimum attendance requirement of 70% for each course).

- Course Policy:
  - An orderly learning environment is extremely important.
  - Disruptive behaviours are absolutely unacceptable.
  - Academic dishonesty includes cheating, plagiarism, unauthorized collaboration, falsifying academic records, and any act designed to avoid participating honestly in the learning process.
  - Any such dishonesty will result in an F grade.

- Policy on Use of Generative Artificial Intelligence
  - Upholding academic integrity is of critical importance and proper declaration and citation of GenAI tools used in coursework tasks and assignments is required. Students who fail to make a full declaration and proper citation according to the course requirements may face disciplinary action.

- Additional Course Information
  - Assignments will be submitted by deadline to be announced on Moodle.
  - No late assignment will be accepted.
  - Lecture notes and self-learning materials will be uploaded on Moodle.
  - Good questions and discussions in class will be awarded participation grades.
